Stay connected with industry at the Supply Chain Symposium

Stay connected with industry at the Supply Chain Symposium hosted by Workplace Health and Safety Queensland, at the Brisbane Exhibition and Convention Centre on 10 November 2016.

Expand your industry knowledge and safety leadership capacity at this professional development opportunity tailored for manufacturing, transport and logistics safety professionals.

Delegates will hear from business leaders, researchers and industry representatives about how effective consultation, collaboration and leadership can influence work health and safety and productivity across the supply chain.

Bronwyn will be speaking between 3:00 - 3.30pm on the topic:

“Safety in supply chains from a small business point of view”
